

QUAYLE SHOTS WIFE REGISTERING WOMEN

Would Be Slayer Then Places Pistol to His Head and Sends Two Bullets Into His Brain, Causing Death

Residents of the city residing near the Alexandria Hospital, on Wolfe, between Royal and Pitt streets, were startled this morning at a quarter of seven o'clock by the reports of four or five revolver shots which followed in rapid succession. An investigation revealed the fact that Charles E. Quayle, of 536 South Lee street, had shot his wife, Clara, and then taken his own life by shooting himself twice, once through the mouth and also through his temple. Quayle apparently fired three shots at his wife. One of them lodged in her abdomen, a second passed through her side and a third took effect in her arm. The latter bullet was found and taken out after her removal to the Alexandria Hospital, by Dr. S. B. Moore.

Quayle's body was removed to Wheatley's undertaking rooms.

Story of the Shooting.

According to the story of the shooting, given by those who are said to have witnessed it, it is claimed that Quayle met his wife in front of the east end of the hospital and started a violent argument with her, during which she repeatedly asked him to let her alone. Quayle did not, however, and just as his wife started running down the block towards Royal street he opened fire on her, chasing her into the store owned by M. Fagelson at the corner of Wolfe and Royal, where she screamed "Help! Help!" and immediately ran out of the door on the Royal street side.

Her husband then turned the revolver on himself and blew out his brains. He fell to the sidewalk on Royal street.

Dr. T. Marshall Jones was summoned for the woman, and she was assisted by people in the neighborhood in the Alexandria Hospital.

The shooting naturally caused much excitement. In less than time it takes to tell it people were running to the scene from all around and a large crowd gathered in front of the hospital.

Mrs. Quayle is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dixon, of 215 north Fairfax street. About five years ago she married Quayle, but their marital life had not been harmonious. His wife returned to her father's house, and Quayle lived at the family home at 536 south Lee street. About a year ago, it will be remembered, Quayle attacked Dixon, his father-in-law, at the latter's residence on north Royal street, and was fined $25 in the Police Court.

Quayle has for sometime been very jealous of his wife, it is said, and, according to reports, had threatened her with bodily injury. They had one child, a little girl four years old, which, with the mother, resides at 215 north Fairfax street, with Mrs. Quayle's parents. For some time past Mrs. Quayle has been employed at the Klotz Silk Mill and was on her way to the mill when the tragedy occurred. Mrs. Quayle is about 19 years old. It is said she has a fighting chance for recovery.

Quayle, in 1892, when a boy, lost one of his legs by being run over by an electric car on south Fairfax street. He had been employed at the Deane shipyard, and was about 35 years old.

Inquest Tonight.

Dr. T. M. Jones, city coroner, will hold an inquest over the remains of Quayle at 8 o'clock this evening at Wheatley's undertaking parlors, for which he has summoned the following named jurors: John M. Reed, P. M. Bradshaw, Frank W. Latham, Jerome Kaufmann, Harvey E. Gentry, and Thomas H. Henshaw.

The following named persons, who are said to have witnessed the shooting, Plans Under Way to List Alexandria Women for Economic War Service—Meeting Tomorrow.

Tentative plans have been drawn up for the registration of Alexandria's women for war service, along the lines of the plan proposed by the women's committee of the Virginia Council of National Defense in accordance with the policy of Herbert C. Hoover, food administrator of the nation, who is enrolling all the housewives of America into a league for the prevention of waste and to assist in winning the war by the skillful manipulation of the country's food resources.

Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, who has been appointed chairman of the local committee for the work by the State Chairman, Mrs. E. C. Minor, in Richmond, has announced that a big meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock in the Sunday School room of St. Paul's Church, when all those that are interested in seeing that Alexandria is one of the first cities in Virginia to come up to the mark in registering her women are expected to be present. All women over the age of sixteen years are to be registered.

A general committee is being appointed by Mrs. Barrett and in addition numerous societies of women in this city will be represented on subcommittees, and each church in the city is expected to appoint ten of its congregation to help in the work. Notices were read at numbers of the local churches yesterday regarding the work to be done.

ing, have been subpoenaed to give their testimony at the inquest:

Miss Fannie Carter, Mamie Middleton, 410 S. Royal street; Lottie Simms, 412 S. Royal street; Frank Bettis, Jr., 514 Queen street; Robert Carver, 912 Franklin street; James Kemmons, Beatrice Berry, George Ayers, M. Fagelson, Wm. Cline, Mrs. Rachel Truett, Roddy Douglas, Thos. J. Davis and Mrs. Belle Brown.

The shooting was done with a thirty two caliber revolver. It is said that Quayle and his wife had not been living together for nearly a year, having separated July 7, 1916.

All through the morning hours, unconscious of the tragedy that may darken her girlhood in years to come, the little four-year-old daughter of the dead father and his wounded wife played on the sidewalk in front of her grand parents' home on Fairfax street.

The Fourth at Occoquan.

Preparations are under way for a big day at Occoquan where a special program will be given for the benefit of the Red Cross. The Indian Guard Band of this city has been engaged to play there all day. Miss Mabel Boardman, of Washington, will deliver an address at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and there will be moving pictures shown in the evening.

An opportunity will also be given to everybody to visit and inspect the reformatory there. Over 2600 acres of land are connected with the institution.

News has reached Bristol that L. C. Guy has been shot and instantly by R. A. May three miles east of Elizabethton, Tenn. The killing resulted from a renewal of the quarrel the two men had last spring over a land deal. Both men were prominent citizens in that section and May owned one of the most valuable farms in Watuga Valley. Mr. Guy's wife and son were present when the shooting occurred. They were at a small station near Elizabethton waiting for a train when Guy rode upon a mule and it is alleged, fired the first shot. May then fired two shots.

Notice.

From and after this date I will not be responsible for any bills incurred by my wife, Minnie Hohenstein.

The name of Charles J. Deahl, Jr., was intentionally omitted in report of the Alexandrians who are making good at the Fort Myer reserve officers' training camp. Mr. Deahl was first sergeant of the Alexandria Light Infantry during the stay of that command on the border.

The Cardinals and Washington all star teams played an interesting game of base ball on the grounds here yesterday when the Cardinals defeated the Capital City lads, 7 to 1. Lefty Brodt, who twirled seven innings, was master of the game at all times, and had the visitors at his mercy. He was backed up in fine style by McBride behind the bat. Merchant at first; Riadon and Bob Oler, on the second sack; Devers, short stop; George Allensworth, third base; Owens, right field; "Jeff" Williams, left field; Strunkle, center field, all played gold-brand base ball and battled the rival pitchers, hard, which brought success to the Cardinals. Billy Stevens, the soldier lad with the port side swing, was on the mound the last two innings and performed well, allowing one hit during that time. The members of the All-Stars also played well. "Doc" Hartley and Giovannetti, two of the most popular and best base ball players in Washington, were the stellar batters for the All Stars.

WANT MORE MEN

SUPPOSED LAST CHANCE LONG MONDAY'S DOCKET

Many Persons, White and Colored, Visited Washington Saturday Night to Obtain Liquor.

An impression prevailed throughout the city last week that after twelve o'clock Saturday night no more liquor could be brought from Washington to Alexandria; hence there was a rush on the part of many, especially after dark, to avail themselves of the supposed last chance. The electric railway company was compelled to operate extra trains in order to meet the demands for transportation. Trains were running until after midnight, and on some there were disorders among whites as well as blacks. In most cases, however, the parties to the disorders became quiet after the train passed the city limits.

Only one colored individual was arrested for violating the prohibition law. He had more liquor than allowed in his possession, and this morning he was held for the action of the grand jury.

There is a divergence of opinion as to the meaning of the law which went into effect at midnight Saturday night. Some lawyers, quoting the statute literally, cannot see how any person can in any way transport liquor into Virginia at present without violating the law, as the statute forbids the shipment or transportation of ardent spirits into any state where it is unlawful to manufacture or sell the same. Should this contention be sustained, those who purchase liquor outside the state and attempt to transport it into Virginia will be made to face the grand jury of the Corporation Court if arrested by the Alexandria police.

FIFTEEN BODIES FOUND

Authorities Still Believe Two Score Bodies Remain Under Wreckage in Milwaukee River.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 2.—Twelve identified and three unidentified dead is the toll up to 6 o'clock yesterday evening from wreckage caused by a water tank falling on the excursion steamer Christopher Columbus, filled with excursionists Saturday.

Police dragged the river all day in a futile effort to raise the debris of the great tank which crashed through the forward decks of the whaleback.

The authorities held to their estimate of Saturday night and expressed the belief that two-score persons were dead under the wreckage.

While the searchers continued their grim task, city, State and Federal officials began a sweeping investigation, which they hope will fasten the blame on the responsible parties. W. A. Collins, inspector of hulls of the Federal Steamboat Inspection Bureau, declared the evidence secured indicated that there had been no criminal carelessness, and that the accident was due to unusually high water in the Milwaukee River.

"A Tale of Two Cities."

True to the old life itself is the ancient London street which figures largely as a setting for the tremendous super de luxe William Fox photoplay production, "A Tale of Two Cities," in which William Farnum plays the dual role of Charles Darnay and Sidney Carton at the Richmond Theatre tonight.

Even to the roughly paved roadway fringed with the picturesque houses of "ye olden times" fidelity to detail is exact. One of the dwellings, a typical inn, is "The Nag's Head," atmospheric to a marked degree, and exactly as described by Dickens, even to the sign which warns all citizens of the good town of London that stages for Dover leave at ten and two.

There is the Old Bailey. His Majesty's gaol here Tellson's banking house; over yonder St. Dunstons Lodge, where the mellow traveler might wax a degree or so mellowed and roar with his tankard of "musty." And over it all, enveloping everything, is the atmosphere which Dickens pictures scores of years ago.

Over Twenty Persons Had Their Names on the Blotter of the Police Court This Morning.

The docket in the Police Court this morning was unusually long. The offenses charged were of a miscellaneous nature.

George Turner, colored, was charged with violating the prohibition law. He was held for the action of the grand jury.

Llewellyn Lane and Lottie Haley, both colored, had been arrested for fighting Saturday night on north Henry street. Lane was cut on the left cheek and breast and had to be taken to the Alexandria Hospital for treatment. The woman was cut on both hands. Lane in his statement charged the woman with using a razor on him. He also stated that he went to Washington and procured whiskey for a white man. Lane was held for the action of the grand jury and the woman was fined $25.

Granville Ross, colored, was brought to the bar to answer the charge of disorderly conduct on an electric train. It was shown that he cut at a negro with whom he had been quarreling, but missed him and cut a woman's dress. He was fined $20.

James Johnson, colored, had been arrested for carrying a pistol. He was fined $25.

Several white and colored persons were charged with being drunk. Some forfeited their collateral by failing to appear, and the others were fined $5 each.

Several other unimportant cases were disposed of.

POTATOES ON DOWN GRADE

Fine "Spuds" Offered in the Alexandria Market This Morning at Normal Prices.

As has been stated in the Gazette, potatoes have been selling in our market for some time at 20 and 25 cents per quarter peck. They had previously been retailed at 30 cents. At the same time these essentials had been offered in Baltimore as low as 5 cents per quarter, and in Washington at 17 cents.

Hillman Baylies, a well-known Fairfax county trucker, who attends the Alexandria market, brought some fine specimens to this city this morning which he was offering at 13 cents per quarter, or 25 cents a half peck. Many Alexandrians are growing potatoes at present in their back yards. Some have not met the expectations of the amateur gardeners, but in most cases they are said to be coming on fine. The time for digging them is drawing near, and it is probable that they will decline still farther in price when the private crops come in.

RUSS CAPTURE 8,546 MEN

Take Town of Koniuchy in Belorussian Blow on Eighteen-Mile Front.

Russia's armies have not lost their old striking power as the result of their long inactivity. This is evidenced by the announcement today from Petrograd of the taking of an important Austro-German position in Galicia at the outset of the new offensive, together with the capture of more than 8,500 prisoners.

AUTOS WITHOUT LIGHTS

The new traffic law is inoperative at present, it having been laid on the table by the Board of Aldermen at the regular meeting last Tuesday night. It will, it is believed, be taken up later and adopted after another conference between committees of the upper and lower boards of Council shall have been held.

It may be said that there is at present much laxity upon the part of some auto owners, who fail to observe the present law which has been operative for some time. Sergeant Wilkinson yesterday arrested a colored man upon the charge of operating an automobile at night without lights. He left collateral for his appearance in the Police Court this morning, but failed to appear and forfeited his deposit.

In this connection it may be stated that occasionally autos are seen passing through the streets at night without the red light in the rear which is essential for safety. In other cases machines are occasionally left standing in the streets after dark without this necessary safeguard.

It is a matter of common occurrence to see automobiles dash through the streets, especially at night, at a dangerous and unlawful speed. This practice, however, is generally in evidence in Rosemont, north Washington street, West End and other places now in the city limits. On Sundays, when the weather is propitious, hundreds of automobiles and motorcycles pass through this city, mostly from Washington, and pedestrians are kept constantly on the alert in order to escape injury from chauffeurs, many of whom are reckless. One of our most esteemed citizens was struck and seriously injured in Rosemont several months ago by an unknown autoist, and several Alexandrians have had narrow escapes recently. These doers of the law should be identified, if possible, and made to face the Police Court.

SHOOTING OF GARFIELD.

Thirty-six years ago today the country was startled by the news which was soon flashed in every direction. President James A. Garfield had been shot by a fanatic named Charles Guiteau in the old Sixth street depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Washington. Two shots were discharged at the President, one of which took effect, bringing on blood poisoning which caused his death about two months later. The other shot went wild, although it was said at the time it struck a dog belonging to an Alexandrian who was in the depot at the time of the assassination. A bullet was extracted from the canine some time after it reached home with its owner.

The assassin made no attempt to escape, but virtually gave himself up to the police, and enjoined them to see that he was protected from mob violence.

The trial of Guiteau did not take place until nearly a year after the shooting, and the scenes in the court, where the murderer insisted upon acting as his own lawyer, were exasperating to the court. In order to compel the felon to keep order it was necessary to threaten him with removal from the room. He was finally sentenced to be hanged, after which he attempted to play the crazy game. He was executed in due time notwithstanding.

Garfield was the second President of the United States to fall by the hand of an assassin. Abraham Lincoln had been murdered by John Wilkes Booth April 14, 1865.

William McKinley was the next victim. Lincoln and Garfield had been killed by fanatics, but McKinley was fatally shot at Buffalo by an anarchist, Czolgosz, a foreigner, who labored under the delusion that he was performing a duty to society by killing one in authority.

ANOTHER FIRST WARD HORROR

The attempted murder of a young wife this morning and the suicide of her would-be slayer makes the fourth occurrence of the kind in the First ward during the past thirty years. The first that we will record is that of a young man who was walking with his wife under the Wilkes street tunnel in the latter part of the 'eighties when he suddenly drew a pistol and fired at her head. The ball struck the mark, but was deflected and did not enter the woman's brain. She recovered and several years later the woman's husband was killed by a train under the tunnel where he attempted to kill his better half.

Subsequently a young man met a young woman at the southeast corner of Duke and Lee streets, and after a heated colloquy with her, discharged a pistol at her head and then putting the weapon to his temple sent a ball into his head from which he died within a few minutes. The woman recovered, the ball from the pistol having glanced.

About a year ago a young man residing in the southeastern section of the same ward who had not been living with his wife, proceeded to a neighbor's house where the woman was visiting and shot her. She died next day from her injury.

The above cases are those of white people. Similar horrors have been perpetrated by negroes during the past third of a century in the same section of the city.

IN FOR LONG DROUTH

Whether liquor can be transported into Virginia for any purpose at present is a matter on which lawyers differ. The Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac Railroad has served notice that it will not receive, handle or transport liquor shipments under any pretext, the law forbidding the "transportation of liquors into any state or territory which forbids the manufacture and sale of the same."

Interpretation of the law will be up to the federal district attorney and not to the attorney general of Virginia. Indications are that Virginia is in for a drouth of long duration.

PEACE WITH FREEDOM.

Lloyd George was the first to tell, explicitly, why the allies are fighting Germany. President Wilson's message to the American people was equally clear and emphatic, and now General Petain, in the French army bulletin, is similarly outspoken and informative. Here are the fundamental reasons:

We are fighting in order to drive the enemy from our territory and, by a firm and complete peace, to prevent such an unprovoked assault from ever being repeated. We are fighting because by a cowardly withdrawal we would criminally betray both our dead and our posterity. We are fighting so that peace may restore to our country a freedom of action and inspire a responsibility which, were the war to have a bad ending, would be much worse than what our people suffer today.

As the Richmond Journal says, he emphasizes what is notoriously true, that Germany had the hope of crushing France in a few months by traitorously attacking through Belgium. With her formidable force she believed she could certainly get to Paris long before Great Britain could send anything else than "a miserable little army." Beaten on the Marne and Yser, stopped at Verdun, obliged by many defeats to yield ground, besieged by almost all of Europe, has Germany renounced the dream of her annexationists to control the most valuable mineral, industrial and agricultural resources of northern France? General Petain declares she has not. "The more we have inflicted heavy losses upon her, the more does she desire compensations." And it is her intention, he asserts, to extort ten times the gold she received in 1871. Doubtless, she wants peace. Why not? But as the kind of peace she would dictate—full of profits. It is such a peace as she has already pretended to offer, what the general describes as a "peace of prey." Her bad faith was shown when she refused to set forth her aims in response to President Wilson's invitation. She dared not bare them to the world, because all her pretensions are maintained. Says General Petain:

She desired war in order to realize them. The only one in Europe prepared for it, she alone desired it, brought it about, precipitated it, decreed it, and rendered it inexplicable by her procedure, atrocious by her methods. By keeping secret and having no honest desire to declare her superlative pretensions for domination, she stands as the sole obstacle to peace.

NEUTRALS' FALSE HOPES.

Holland is entertaining the belief that the United States is not in earnest in its food export control position. As the Baltimore American says Holland will have an awakening. The Netherlands and the Scandinavian countries are the ones that will feel the full effects of the regulation. These are the countries that have been, together with Switzerland, believed to be sending American commodities into Germany. Holland has experienced a big jump in the bulk of certain food exports into Germany and these were of the kind derived from the United States.

Germany is slumbering in the belief that the United States does not mean half it says—that is Germany aside from official Berlin. Holland has doubtless imbibed similar sentiments from its neighbor. But the United States means all it says and all that it is doing. And the practice of shipping imports from the United States into Germany will absolutely cease. If Holland wants to enjoy the confidence of this country and the largest possible measures of benefit from its exports, it will cease to belittle the policy announced and co-operate with them to the fullest degree.

TO BUILD HUGE NAVAL BASE

Work Will be Started at Once at Hampton Roads.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels yesterday took the first step toward the creation in Hampton Roads of the greatest base in the history of the American navy.

Under authority of a Presidential proclamation, Rear Admiral Walter McLean, commandant of the Norfolk Navy Yard, was instructed to take possession of the property included in the Jamestown Exposition site and Pine Beach section, adjoining Sewell's Point. Persons at present residing thereon must move by August 1.

The base, when completed, will be the greatest naval establishment in the western hemisphere. It will accommodate the entire Atlantic Fleet. Dockage on deep water will be provided, where the largest ship in the navy may tie to a wharf or go into drydock. Here the fleet, under war conditions, could strip for action, safe from all possibility of hostile raids.

Congress appropriated $1,200,000 for the purchase of the Jamestown and Pine Beach properties and an additional $1,600,000 as an initial amount toward the development of the naval base.

Work will begin immediately on quarters for 10,000 naval recruits. Secretary Daniels declared he expected to have accommodations for several thousand recruits before the end of August and for the entire 10,000 before October.

BOYS BLAMED FOR DEATH

Their Companion's Body Found in West Virginia River.

Fayetteville, W. Va., July 2.—William Johnson, 16 years old, and Lauren Collins, 11 years old, both of Brown, are under arrest, charged with the murder of Ralph Beury, 14 years old, who was found dead in the New river. Examination of the dead boy's body showed no water in the lungs and that he must have been killed before being placed in the water.

Many suspicious circumstances point to the two boys, who started for the river to go in swimming with Beury. On their way they were met

FRED-AT TWO U-BOATS

Commander of Gun Crew on American liner thinks one periscope was shattered.

London, July 2.—The gun crew of an American liner fired upon two German submarines during her voyage from the United States to England.

Both targets were at a considerable range, but the report to Washington of the commanding officer will express the belief that one periscope was shattered.

A third submarine was sighted, but at a great distance and it submerged immediately.

The passengers expressed the greatest admiration for the marksmanship of the American gunners as shown both in practice and against the enemy. One member of the crew of the liner was formerly a gunner in the British navy and he won applause from the American gunners by making a bull's-eye hit on a barrel target during practice.

On one occasion the Americans made seven bull's-eye out of eight tries.

ACCIDENT AT NIAGARA

Car Overtakes and Plunges Down Twenty-Foot Embankment.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 2.—A belt line car on the Great Gorge route left the rails, plunged down a 20-foot embankment and turned over in 10 feet of water on the edge of the Whirlpool Rapids at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Eight persons are known to be dead, two persons known to have been on the car have not been seen since the accident and probably are dead, an indefinite number, estimated at from two to ten are reported missing and more than a score are in hospitals, suffering from injuries received in the accident.

A washout, due to recent heavy rains, was the cause of the disaster, which occurred just below the cantilever bridge and 60 feet below the point where the smooth water of the upper reaches of the Niagara River break into the turbulent waters of the Whirlpool Rapids.

AMERICA FEEDS GERMANY
Imports of Fats From This Country Reached 7,700,000 Teuton Soldiers' Hoover States.

The United States is furnishing Germany with the food products which it needs to win the war.

Facts and figures showing imports of food from the United States into Germany, through neutral countries, made public by Herbert C. Hoover last night, prove conclusively that the United States at the present time is feeding the men who stand between her and victory in this war.

Fat is the scarcest food in Germany. Fat is the most highly prized. Fat is the only food the lack of which was seriously apparent in the diet of the German people.

Fats in sufficient quantity to ration all of Germany's 7,700,000 fighting men are entering the Teutonic empires from Holland and Scandinavia, who get these products, directly or indirectly, from the United States.

SOCIALIST'S RIOT.

Anti-Conscription Demonstration in Boston Brings Attack in Streets.

Boston, July 2.—It was a bad day for Socialism and Socialists in Boston yesterday. Their parade and anti-conscription demonstration was broken up as a result of a number of riots centering on Boston Commons. Hundreds of Socialists were beaten and made to kiss the American flag, while on their knees Socialist bands were made to play the "Star Spangled Banner." The headquarters of the Socialists was raided and wrecked.

The rioting continued for three hours. It was precipitated by a number of soldiers, sailors and marines, and their numbers were swelled by many volunteers. It was estimated that 10,000 persons participated in the disturbance.

The police found themselves unable to handle the situation, and order was not restored until a provost guard was called out from the naval training station on Commonwealth Pier. The duty of maintaining quiet was taken out of the hands of the police, and for a time the district affected by the riots was under practical martial law. When the parade started there were about 5,000 persons in line.

The raid on the Socialist headquarters at Park Square was a furious one, and the fittings of the offices and all the furniture were hurled into the streets. All pamphlets were thrown into a bundle and then burned.

CAMP BOOMS QUANTICO.

Virginia Tank Town Grows up Almost Over Night.

Quantico, Va., July 2.—The first of the cantonments for use of the 20,000 marines to be ordered here for training preparatory to their being sent to the trenches in France will be turned over to the government Tuesday. By working a force of 1,500 men night and day the contractor has completed half of the 300 barracks buildings in a remarkably short time. The remaining 150 are expected to be completed by the middle of July.

Several thousand marines from Haiti, Santo Domingo and from various parts of the United States who have been camping in tents on a broad level field overlooking the Potomac River while awaiting the completion of the cantonments will move into the wooden structures Tuesday.

The barracks will be complete in every respect, for on Monday Quantico's new water plant, equipped with a reservoir with a capacity of 300,000 gallons per day, will be put into operation. Quantico has a large electric lighting plant from which current is furnished to the thousands of lights throughout the town and the cantonment camp.

Work on the Potomac Shipbuilding Company's plant on the bank of the Potomac River is being rushed with all possible dispatch compatible with thoroughness and completeness. This company has a number of contracts for wooden ships in hand and expects to lay its first keel the day the plant is completed. This is expected to be about July 15.

With the arrival here of thousands of marines, the presence of an army of artisans and laborers and the approaching arrival of hundreds of shipyard workers Quantico is facing a stupendous housing and feeding problem. Quantico, which sprang from a "tank town" to a large town, has been unable to meet the problem of overpopulation and nearby cities have reaped the benefit.

The business done by Washington, Richmond and Baltimore concerns with the contractors, marines and civilians in Quantico, has mounted far up into the thousands of dollars in a short space of time. Frederickburg, Quantico's nearest neighbor, has felt a severe drain on her food resources, while hundreds of boarding houses and residences there are overcrowded.

The food supplies for the marines, costing several thousand dollars a day, are brought here from Washington and Richmond.

Quantico has sent out an "S. O. S." signal for the establishment of stores and business establishments of all kinds along her streets. The marines and civilians are spending thousands of dollars in railroad fares journeying to Washington, Richmond, and Baltimore to purchase clothing and other necessities. Extra train service has been established and a daily boat service from Washington will be inaugurated within the next day or two.

A number of new business places have been established here, but they are entirely inadequate to meet the demand. The marines brought their appetite with them and their demand for food, knickknacks and confectionery has become so great that a number of establishments for the sale of these articles have been started in tents and dugouts.

GERMANY FRANTIC.

Germany Threatens "Iron Fist" For England's Starvation Policy.

Amsterdam, July 2.—A semi-official telegram received here from Berlin says:

"The German press, referring to the British indignation at the attacks on the fortress of London, says that if England wishes to spare her civilians she can remove them from the neighborhood of store places of war equipment. Folkestone, Dover, Sheerness and London are such store places."

"The German people, under the pressure of English starvation and the war, have become a hard race with an iron fist. England has felt that, and will experience it again tomorrow. England may lie and deceive or rage and threaten. The hammer is in our hands and it will mercilessly and shatter the places where England is forging weapons against us."

Three persons were killed and three injured when an automobile, in which they were riding, was struck by an interurban car near Butler, Pa., yesterday afternoon.

PORTUGUESE IN FRANCE

All the Troops There See Victory For Allies Approaching.

Major Norton de Mattos, the Portuguese minister of war, has gone to France to visit the Portuguese troops serving there. After visiting the French front, he intends to go to London for conferences concerning Portugal's active participation in the war. His post is filled during his absence by Dr. Alfonso Costa, premier and minister of finance.

The letters published in the Portuguese press from soldiers to their families are all most significant, and full of courage and faith in the victory of the Entente Allies. In a letter received here from an English officer, whose residence is in Lisbon and who is now acting as interpreter with the Portuguese troops, the following words occur:

"I have been several times to the front with Portuguese troops, sent there with English for practice, so that they may be trained in the methods of war. I am glad to be able to say that the Portuguese soldiers are not 'finks' and all that is necessary is strict discipline and organization."

According to the military convention between the English and Portuguese governments, a fixed number of troops will be sent out every month. A decree has just been published calling upon all classes with a certain degree of education between 20 and 45 years of age to attend military schools for eight hours a day during three months.

TURKEY IN BAD FLIGHT

Germany Furnishing Troops to Hold Back British in Mesopotamia and Palestine.

Paris, July 2.—French prisoners escaping from the German lines bring the story of how Germany is furnishing Turkey with a portion of the troops that are necessary to keep up resistance to the British advance in Mesopotamia and Palestine.

The Germans, according to the returned prisoners, are trying to induce prisoners of the Mohammedan religion to take up arms for the Turks for the "glory of Islam."

Those who accepted this proposal were placed in one camp, where they were given every consideration, while those who refused were sent off to a second camp, where they were obliged to undergo military drill barefooted, frequently with snow on the ground. When they failed to keep up the standard of drill demanded they were beaten on the back until some finally consented to join the battalions destined for Turkey.

23 STATES BONE DRY

Reed Amendment Forbidding Shipment of Liquor into Prohibition Territory Now Effective.

Twenty-three states are now bone dry. The Reed amendment prohibiting shipment of liquor into any territory where its manufacture or sale is prohibited, went into effect Saturday midnight.

Eleven other states are partially affected by the legislation which has been hailed by temperance advocates as the greatest single step toward abolition of the liquor traffic yet taken in the nation's history.

The law bars from prohibition areas, whether states or smaller corporations, all mail matter containing advertisements or solicitations for orders for intoxicants, a provision designed to aid in enforcing the anti-shipment feature by suppressing the activities of mail order houses in dry territory.

Justice and Postoffice Department officials have made extensive preparations for enforcement of the statute. United States marshals and postal inspectors everywhere have been instructed to be on the lookout for violations. There are heavy penalties for violations.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Two engineers and two firemen were killed, two locomotives badly wrecked and about twenty freight cars burned as the result of a head-on collision between two fast freights on the Seaboard Air Line railway early Saturday morning. The engineers were Harry C. Gaskins, of Portsmouth, and C. Linkous, of Raleigh. The names of the two firemen have not been learned.

Although 23,000 volts passed through his body, Edward Potts, 17 years old, survived the shock which he received on the top of a thirty-foot pole in Pottsville, Pa., and may recover. Potts climbed the pole out of curiosity, and when he reached the top leaned against a cross-arm, when the current took him in its grasp. After awhile his limp body fell to the earth.

Virginia has in its cash box today about $1,750,000 for making the payments that will be due July 1. The checks for semi-annual interest on the public debt, amounting to $420,000, will be put into the late mails, and will be in the hands of the holders of state securities not later than Monday. Then there will be the payments that have to be made as of July 1 to the public institutions and state dependencies, and this will take close on to $400,000, so that when all payments have been made the state will have a balance of about $1,000,000 with which to meet charges of all sorts.

The French steamer Himalaya, of the Messageries Maritimes, with 204 passengers and crew, has been sunk as the result of an explosion in the Mediterranean. One hundred and seventy-six persons were saved.

Rioting again broke out in East St. Louis last night. Colored men killed one policeman and seriously wounded two others. National guard troops were hurried to the scene of the shooting.

The Argentine minister of foreign affairs, Onorio Pueyrredon, declared yesterday that his government was determined to enter a claim against Germany for the torpedoing of the Argentine vessels Oriano and Toro, insisting that the Argentine flag was attacked in the case of these ships. A note embodying the claim was sent to Germany Saturday night.

The greatest hoard of gold said to have been stored in one place has been counted and found complete "to a penny." The amount was $765,000,000, in American, French and English coins and bullion. It was stored in the United States Assay Office in New York. The greatest amount of gold stored at the assay office before the European war was $80,000,000.

Yesterday morning at about 1:30 o'clock Walter K. Hamilton, a painter, and his wife were cut to pieces at their home in the northeastern section of Nashville, Tenn. The neighbors who were awakened by screams found the man dead and his wife lying across his body breathing her last. The murder was a mystery to the police until about 7 o'clock yesterday morning, when Albert J. Hunter, a cabinet maker, presented himself at police headquarters to "talk matters over." Later he confessed the killing, declaring that the slain man had been friendly with Mrs. Hunter and when he called on him early yesterday a furious fight followed, in which he killed Hamilton and unintentionally stabbed Hamilton's wife. They had fought before.

The report, from British headquarters in France issued last night, says: "During the month of June we have taken in the course of our successful operations against Messines and Wytschate Ridge, and on other parts of our front 8,086 German prisoners, including 175 officers, and have also captured 67 guns, including two heavy guns, 102 trench mortars and 345 machine guns, besides great quantities of other war material."

A total of $100,489 has been forwarded by the William A. Sunday Evangelistic Association, disposing of the free-will offering by Billy Sunday at the close of his campaign in New York, it was announced by the executive committee yesterday. The money went to the following: American Red Cross, $32,381.78; Y. M. C. A. work, $32,381.78; Y. W. C. A. work, $35,000; for baseball suits for American sailors and marines, $426.

Henry Levy, a wealthy Indianapolis manufacturer, committed suicide yesterday by jumping from the fifteenth floor of the Congress Hotel in Chicago to the street. A note was found in his room at the hotel reading: "Goodbye; I am tired of life." Levy was president of the Capital Rattan Company, of Indianapolis.
